Rasha Ahmed

Dear: Rasha:

Congratulations on winning the 2002 Albert E. Waugh Scholarship in Economics, which commemorated his dedication to academic excellence and the teaching of economics to college students. This award reflects your high level of academic achievement in the Department of Economics and your promise as a teacher. We are impressed with both your performance in your course work and your quality as a teacher. You should be gratified.

The amount of the scholarship is determined according to available income of the trust. The award will either be deducted from your University charges or will be paid to you directly if there are no charges. This will happen as soon as the paperwork is processed by the University of Connecticut Foundation.

In addition to myself, the Awards Committee consisted of Professor Segerson. We wish you all the best in the New Year and success in your studies.

Sincerely,

Gerald W. Sazama
Associate Professor of Economics
Chair of the Awards Committee
